Heavy Duty Hardware

Our garage doors are engineered to the highest quality standards, and built tough to protect your property and critical assets. Each door system comes as a ready-to-install kit with interlocking panels, locks, heavy-duty tracks, springs, cables and a LiftMaster opener. In addition, our ballistic garage doors feature our patent-pending Bulli-Hinge which is 781% stronger than standard hinges. This provides elite protection against a wide range of threats. Best of all, our garage doors do not require additional structural support, and can be easily installed in any new construction or retrofit project.
